

DAVID + CAMERON

hey there!

WE ARE HUMBLLED AND THANKFUL YOU ARE TAKING THE TIME TO CONSIDER US AND GETTING TO KNOW ABOUT OUR FAMILY.

We are anxiously awaiting the opportunity to grow our family and provide a loving and safe home for a child. We cannot imagine the gravity of the choice you are making. It is our hope that if you decide to allow us to adopt your child into our family, know that they will be loved, nurtured, and supported by us, our families, and our friends. We have the utmost respect for the selfless decision you are making and we will always have gratitude and grace toward you. It's because of you that our family might grow.

The bottom half of the page features abstract graphic elements. On the left, there is a large, rounded red shape that resembles a stylized figure or a splash. To its left, a smaller, solid orange circle is positioned. Below the red shape, a dark teal shape is partially visible on the far left edge.

When we began discussing children, we talked about all the different routes we could go, but we always came back to adoption. We are big believers that biology is not required to make someone family. Nothing would make us happier than to give a child in need a safe and happy home filled with books, songs, toys, and movies. It is our hope to become parents and provide a loving and bright future for a child in a caring, stable environment. Adoption is 100% the right decision for us. We are so excited to grow our family and to be on this adoption journey with you.

After several years in the business world, I decided to go back to school to pursue a more creative career. I now have been a graphic designer for seven years, and I love it. I'm thankful I get to work from home, which will allow me to stay home with the baby—something I am very excited about.

I enjoy music, art, theater, reading, creative writing, game nights with friends, and am always up for a new adventure. I look forward to sharing my interests with a new little one and learning about all of their interests. I've wanted to be a dad my whole life. I am so grateful for you taking the time to consider us.

Always a creative person at heart, I started my career as a hairstylist 15 years ago. In 2017, I started my own salon suite which has given me the opportunity to create my own schedule. This will allow me the freedom to be around for all those important moments. I find great joy in making people feel beautiful and look forward to doing my own child's hair one day.

In my spare time, I'm an avid music lover, find arts & crafts projects to be an act of relaxation, and never pass up a great movie to cuddle up to on the couch. I am excited to share these moments with a little one very soon.

our home + community

We were lucky enough to get to design and build our dream home this year. We loved getting to choose the floor plan, the lot on a quiet cul-de-sac, and all of the finishes. There's a large bedroom just waiting for a new little one. They'll have a bathroom just for them (something David would have killed for growing up). There is a beautiful sunroom that we plan to use as a playroom filled with books and toys.

Our subdivision is full of families with young children who can become future friends. We see them all playing in the two parks in our neighborhood all the time. The builder is just about to finish the community pool and playground which we know will get lots of use.

There are lots of things to do in the area, and we're only a short distance from the mountains and the beach, so weekend road trips are a must that will happen often.

our life together

We spend as much of our free time as possible with family and friends. We get no greater joy in life than spending time with those we love, and we do so as often as possible. We actually just moved closer to Cameron's parents so we can see them more often and they can help with the baby.

We also have a shared love for travel and try to do that multiple times a year, be it for a long weekend or an extended trip. We value experiences, and think the best experiences are ones we do together.

We enjoy going to antique stores, playing board and card games, attending concerts and Broadway shows, seeing movies, trying new restaurants, and going for walks to try and stay healthy.

holidays are a big deal

We love anytime that we get to celebrate a holiday because we have traditions for all of them. We do a big cookout and fireworks on the 4th of July. There are two all-day Thanksgivings—one with friends and one with family. We do a kickoff to Christmas on the first weekend in December and have specific music we listen to as we put up the tree. Christmas Eve is spent with Cameron's parents & grandmother, and then we do our traditions at home on Christmas Day. Easter isn't complete without hiding eggs for David's nephews, and we do a big NYE get-together with family & friends full of food, music, fireworks, and games. We get so much joy out of building memories around the holidays and can't wait to add one more to the festivities.

our family & friends

We are both very lucky to have family and friends who live close by that we enjoy getting to see often. Cameron's parents live less than 20 minutes from our new house, and they're already picking out grandparent names. Future aunts, uncles, and cousins live just one town over, and we spend lots of time together. We have several friends who live in the same area as us. Some of our closest friends live in the neighborhood across the street, and they're currently pregnant. We already talk about how our kids will be born close to the same time and they'll be built-in friends.

This child will have a network of people that will love and support them from the beginning. Our family and friends are extremely inclusive, accepting, and caring. They are all excited for us and are anxiously waiting to meet the newest member of the family.

David and Cameron will give their child a loving environment where they can be exactly who they are and thrive. They will be doted on and given opportunities to travel and experience the world with two of the worthiest people. They will have a support network full of love and trust, and any child would be lucky to have them as parents.

- ASHLEY

David and Cameron are a couple with great communication, love, and respect for one another. Without hesitation, I know they would show any baby a loving home, a life full of opportunity, and endless love.

- KATERINA

David and Cameron have built a marriage on a foundation of love, honesty, respect, communication, and friendship. I believe they will be excellent parents, and provide a loving, caring, and accepting home to any child. I know they have so much love to give and really want to grow their family.

our morals + values

We both grew up in church and still consider ourselves spiritual people. The most important thing to us is being the best people we can be. We believe in lifting others up and not judging anyone for being different. We want to raise the best human we can and teach them that's what's truly important in life.

our promise to you

WE WILL RAISE THIS CHILD IN AN INCLUSIVE, ACCEPTING, AND INQUISITIVE HOME WHERE THEY KNOW WHAT IT MEANS TO BE UNCONDITIONALLY LOVED AND SUPPORTED.

Thank you for your consideration while making this challenging and important decision. We appreciate you taking the time to look at and read our profile. We would consider it an honor to become parents to this child. We want to instill a sense of individuality, strength, and confidence into our future child. We want them to know that truly anything is possible and dreams are meant to be pursued. We will always be there to cheer them on in whatever their interests are. If you are comfortable with it, we are open to sharing pictures and email updates. Please know if you choose us, we will do everything in our power to ensure they have a happy, healthy, and prosperous life full of love and laughter.

with love and respect,
DAVID + CAMERON

thank you!
