

ZEKE and MADISON

OUR NOTE TO YOU

HELLO!

Our names are Zeke and Madison. I wish I had the appropriate words to write to you to express our gratitude for you considering us to raise your daughter. For one, we both value your life so very much and honor your bravery in wanting the best life for her. We promise with everything in us to love her with unconditional love just as we do our other three children.

We have three biological children who love to play and experience life to the fullest. Our home is one full of love and freedom. We have boy/girl twins and another little boy. Our boys love to play outside on the trampoline and zip line and our little girl loves to do all those things while also loves to sing and dance and play dress up. She has been longing for a little sister for a very long time and talks about all of the things she can't wait to play alongside her one day.

As you consider us to love your daughter forever and raise her to be strong and free, we want to promise you that we will always speak life over her, call out the very best in her, and encourage her to be all that she dreams to be. Our hope is that our children would grow up to love people deeply and know that they are called to a high purpose of living life.

We desire to always tell her how brave you are and how much you love her. We respect and honor your level of openness and want to consider that in everything we do. Ultimately, we want her to know how loved she is by everyone around her.

We cannot thank you enough for considering us to love your daughter forever and always speak highly of you to her in a way that she experiences and understands that she is deeply loved and cared for by both you and our family. We are thinking of you and believing that you would have peace in making this decision and knowing that she is loved and cared for.

WITH LOVE,

Zeke and Madison

OUR STORY

Zeke and Madison met in highschool and have been together ever since. Zeke played football and Madison was a gymnast. We hoped for a family at a young age. It has always been a desire of ours to raise our children in a loving and adventurous home. We have three biological children and cannot wait for our family to be complete through the hope of adoption. We love to spend time together as a family and look for the fun in even the smallest things in life. We want our kids to feel loved and know that they have great purpose. We surround our days with laughter and adventure and it's our greatest honor to raise our beautiful family.

WHY WE ARE ADOPTING

We believe that every life matters and have felt in our hearts a want to show this child that she is deeply loved not only by us but also by her birth mom. Family looks different in many ways and we hope that this child feels so deeply loved by all of those around her and know that she will change so many lives just by the story of her own life.

MEET Madison

Hi! I'm Madison and I find it hard to write oneself into words, but I will do my best. I love my family with my whole heart. When I see my kids laughing and playing, it fills my heart up. I was a competitive gymnast growing up so I love sports and hard work ethic. I love adventure! Seeing the world around us is so important to me. I believe you can learn so much just by getting outside and playing! I love music and being creative. I am a professional photographer so I see the world sometimes through a different perspective and find so much beauty in the small things. I love my husband Zeke with all my heart and I have so much passion in living our life to the very fullest. Creating a home that is safe and full of love for our kids is the only thing I could ask for as a mama. I want to honor your choice in this adoption for your child in the best way possible and let you know that I will love her unconditionally all the days of my life.

HOME

Our home is our safe place for our family. It is where we laugh and play. It is where we rest and feel our best. We believe our home shouldn't look like the perfect house, but it should be made up of trust and comfort. A place for our children to feel free and cared for and an environment where they are encouraged to be all that they hope to be. We love being home and having movie nights or just snuggling on the couch together. We love baking things and making dinner and eating it around the table together. Our home is made to invite our friends and family over to join us in loving life.

OUR COMMUNITY

We are surrounded by so many encouraging friends and families. They have been walking with us during this adoption journey so we are so excited to share this love with them. We feel loved and supported by everyone around us. We love to teach our kids new things about people and culture and differences that make people loved and unique.

We also lived in New Orleans for a little while and our community there is also very strong, so whenever we go visit, we are encouraged by how loved we are by all of the people in our life.
